Learning to play music is known to improve young students' academic performance and self-esteem.

Cody's Keyboard Club has proven itself to be an excellent introduction to playing music for beginners and a springboard for advanced students. It is a "go at your own pace" program in a pressure-free club-like environment. Classes are designed to be a pleasurable experience that lead to a lifetime of enjoying and appreciating music.

Thursday 1/2-hour group lessons

Students choose their music from an extensive selection of popular songs that includes music for every level: beginners, intermediate, and advanced students. If I don't have a song, I will get it.

Improvements for 2015—2016 school year

Recognizing that students have different needs for instruction, this year, Cody's Keyboard Club will offer beginners and advanced classes. Segregating skill levels ensures all students receive maximum value from their participation.

Classical music is now added to the repertoire

I am recommending all of my advanced students learn Für Elise and other songs that will build their skills and musical understanding of using correct fingering and other basic and essential elements of learning piano.

I also teach a Blues course for adventurous advanced students.
